Statement of historical significance and description of property:

B333

A one story irregular L shaped house on a concrete foundation. The roof is a medium gable with plain boxed cornice and returns on the north, west, and east sides.

All of the windows are double-hung sash with either four over four or three over three lights. The original siding has been covered with shingles cedar and a formal porch at the east entrance appears to have been remodeled. There is an outside end chimney on the north side and an interior chimney on the south side.
